Meeting Minutes
May 18, 2010 – Johnson Brock High School

Present: YADA Coordinator Kayleigh Baker, NADAA President Monty Lovelace, NADAA Clerk Ashleigh Boeve, Board Member Holly Riley, Lori Broady, Jackson Boeve, Drew Mayerbach, Mary-Jo Parker

The meeting started at 4:00 pm. The minutes from April meeting were not approved as only two people from the previous meeting were in attendance and had not read the minutes. Motion to accept minutes from the April meeting will be placed on the agenda of the June meeting.

Monty began the meeting with Laura's updates. Laura and Kayleigh both wrote summaries from the workshops they attended at Lifesavers Conference. The summaries are attached to the agenda packet for review.

Laura has been working with a group in Lincoln on the media campaign "Take A Stand." The first insert for this campaign will be in the local newspapers over Memorial Day weekend. The message for the first insert is "Take a stand between your friend and the wheel." Visit www.TakeAStandNE.org to view the online campaign and be linked to the NADAA website.

NADAA will assist with the Special Olympics on July 16. We need five volunteers to help the coalition run games for this event. Special Olympics is a great organization and we are really looking forward to participating in this.

Kayleigh's updates began with the Last Day Blast the PTO is holding on May 25th, the last day of school at Auburn. YADA students will help with games and activities for elementary aged children. Prior to the event, YADA volunteers will meet at our office to enjoy a pizza lunch.

June Jam is almost here! The theme this year is western and the youth signed up to attend are really looking forward to it.

Kayleigh has also started work on some projects for the county fair. She has spoken with students to get some ideas on youth targeted ideas.

Mary-Jo Parker reported that the Creative Celebrations event went really well. She was hoping for more attendees but there were several other events going on that evening. The booklets made were a success and people have been asking Mary-Jo about them and where they could get one.

Holly Riley is taking care of the silent auction items for the NADAA Southeast Community Band Fundraiser that will be held May 23rd at 3pm at the First Presbyterian Church in Auburn. She said that currently she has ten items on the auction list and is still waiting to hear on a few more. The hope for the day is that people will arrive and do some bidding on the items. The band will play from 3pm – 4pm. After the band is finished, there will be some time for bidding and then winners will be announced. Also after the band plays, refreshments will be served. The event is expected to wrap up around 5pm. Mary-Jo is in charge of refreshments that day
